Storm rips Quad-Cities

Repeated onslaughts of wind, rain and lightning early today drenched the Quad-City area and caused extensive property damage and power outages.

Beginning at 3 a.m., the wind began uprooting trees and breaking tree limbs. Many electric lines were broken and blown down by the storm, and numerous homes and buildings suffered damage.

More than an inch of rain fell during a span of one hour, and the total rainfall here for the 24 hours ending at 8 a.m. today was 2.66 inches. New totals are 4.75 inches, occurring on eight days of this month, compared to a normal of 3.73 for May 1-18, and 11.44 inches for the year, compared to the normal Jan. 1-May 18 rainfall of 13.80 inches.

Alarms were set off in many buildings starting at 2:58 a.m. today as the sudden thunderstorm swept through the local community. Also hit were St. Louis County, St. Louis and most of Madison and St. Clair counties.

Flooded many streets and highways, delaying auto traffic before and during the morning "rush hour." A number of vehicles stalled in deep water, and trees blocked some streets.

Hail was reported in western areas, and major portions of the metropolitan area lost electrical power due to damage to wires from the wind and tree limbs. A main power line was affected here along with neighborhood and residential lines, and some of the outages continued into mid-morning hours.

Leaves were stripped from many trees by the gale-like winds, coating the roofs of houses and parked automobiles.

A large tree was felled by the wind at 2700 Saratoga, and across the street a patio structure was blown onto a roof.

A patio roof was torn in half in the 1900 block of Joy Avenue, part of it being blown across the back lawn and against a fence.

Madison authorities received seven calls about power lines being down, and there also were many instances of trees and limbs falling onto lawns and streets.

Police in Madison squad cars patrolled the city early this morning, helping to drag tree limbs out of the streets so that traffic could proceed. No major property damage has been reported in Madison.

Venice officials have been told of power line problems and uprooted trees at many locations.

Areas of Venice sustaining wind damage included Lee Wright Homes, the 300 block of Weaver, the 500 block of Moredockia, the 700 block of Brown, sections of Robin and Bissell streets, 1020 College, 532 Jefferson, 1219 Calhoun, 1000 Logan, 1807 Klein and 1213 Bissell.

A big tree was blown across a yard at 2564 Lynch Ave., narrowly missing a house.

The storm caused traffic lights to halt their normal cycles at Nameoki Road and Madison Avenue and at Nameoki and Johnson roads.

Wind damaged Suburban Baptist Church, Maryville Road and St. Clair Avenue, and utility poles were damaged near Missouri Avenue and West 2nd Street.

At 3:35 a.m., the West Pontoon Road railroad crossing was blocked by warning gates despite the absence of trains.

Attacks on school fund sources

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

Legislation and policies backed by Governor James R. Thompson not only are shrinking state tax support of schools but also are threatening school districts' ability to generate local revenue, Granite City School Supt. B. J. Davis said Friday.

In a letter to legislators, the superintendent asserted that pending legislation could reduce annual statewide school revenue by an estimated $312 million to $327 million, including a loss of more than $1,300,000 for the Granite City community unit school system.

Under attack are the property tax on real estate, the portion of the corporate income tax that replaced the corporate personal property tax, and the level of funding for general and mandated educational programs, Supt. Davis said.

"Categorical programs are not being adequately funded and the talk of ending some of the mandates has not been acted upon," he commented. "This is forcing more of the burden onto local taxes."

Davis cited: Illinois House Bill-1147, limiting 1981

property taxes, $179 million impact statewide, including $650,000 here.

HB 1506, reducing the replacement tax rate, $40 million less statewide and $651,000 in Granite City.

HB 900, an investment tax credit affecting the replacement tax, $40 million to $55 million statewide and at least $2,500 here.

The local superintendent also is concerned about a freeze on income tax revenue sharing. Proposed in the governor's budget revisions, the freeze would have a statewide impact totaling $24 million.

And Gov. Thompson's recommended reduction in his education funding budget is projected at $21 million across the state, Davis added.

The governor originally proposed $90 million in new revenue for elementary and secondary schools but later trimmed this to $69 million, of which only $24 million would be used for general aid to schools, Supt. Davis said, commenting that this and proposed property tax limitations would prevent school districts from keeping pace with inflation and with the normal growth in each community.

Many of the proposed new state laws also threaten the financial stability of non-school taxing bodies, including cities and townships, Davis believes.

Although some of Thompson's stands are linked to budget-balancing efforts in a time of economic recession, the superintendent said, others would not provide "a penny of state revenue" but rather would restrict what governmental entities can obtain from their own area's homes and businesses.

Such policies might seem appealing to hard-pressed taxpayers—and might be popular for a limited time, perhaps extending through the 1982 election campaign—but their effect on the caliber of community governmental services could be disastrous, Davis is convinced.

French visitors here on 25th anniversary

By VALERIE EVENDEN of the Press-Record

"It was a glorious vacation," Blanche Alexander said, and listening to her delightful French accent, you knew it had been just that—glorious!

Mrs. Alexander, 2637 Benton St., was not talking about a vacation she just made to her native France, but a trip to Granite City by her sister, Mrs. Alice Catherine of Caen, France, and her cousins, Denise and Andree, of Paris.

"It was Denise and Andree's 25th wedding anniversary so they came here from Paris to celebrate it," she said.

At the same time, however, French-born Mrs. Alexander also was celebrating a 25th anniversary observance.

She had retired that week from the St. Louis store of Lane Bryant, where she had been employed 25 years as a seamstress-fitter.

Mrs. Alexander learned her dressmaking skills in Paris and had practiced her art at Lane Bryant since joining the company in September 1955.

Upon her retirement, she was presented a gold watch and the well wished her co-workers and company officers.

A Granite City resident since 1946, Mrs. Alexander still retains her pretty French accent, although her English is excellent, and her hands frequently are in motion to emphasize a point in conversation. She comes from the Cherbourg area of France, the peninsula on the coast of Normandy, which juts out into the English Channel.

The report was greatly devastated in World War II, both from bombing raids and in fighting after the D-Day landings.

Mrs. Alexander met her GI husband, Thomas Alexander, in France after the invasion of Normandy.

They were married there and came to the United States in 1946. (Continued on Page 6)

Officials cleared but jury unhappy with 2

Renewed grand jury interest in Madison County assessing procedures failed to generate charges against four county officials, but the jury sought to "rap the knuckles" of two of them anyway.

In a report issued late Thursday afternoon, county grand jurors recommended that Terryl W. Francis, a Democrat, not be reappointed to the Board of Review.

The grand jury did not explain its objection to Francis, who often is the review board's spokesman at gatherings of property owners awaiting assessment hearings.

The jury also assailed Granite Cityman James W. Barton, supervisor of assessments, although it asserted "there was no wrongdoing between Dave Mallett and the office of the supervisor of assessments concerning the assessment of Mallett's property."

Mallett, a Collinsville auto dealer, was one of an estimated 1,600 property owners whose assessments were said to have been adjusted in 1978 through issuance of certificates of error.

"After county legal ruling said such certificates should be limited to the correction of a mathematical mistake, rather than the remedying of incorrect information or unsound opinion."

Madison County State's Attorney Donald Weber said Mallett apparently received a $69,000 net assessment adjustment on two businesses and 11 farm buildings shortly after selling an airplane to Barton and another man.

Adjustments after valuations set by an assessor for an upcoming tax year, and are not necessarily a reduction below the assessment level on which taxes have been paid.

Barton notes that certificates of error were used extensively around the state during the 1970s to correct property value mistakes.

He has complied with tighter certificate restrictions issued by Democrat Nicholas G. Byron, state's attorney until last fall, and by Republican

6 exemptions ease part of the pain of paying property taxes

By BILL WINTER of the Press-Record

(Second of two articles) Is there a silver lining in the dark cloud of property assessing for tax purposes? Yes, and it is the exemption procedure.

There are no waivers of property taxes, but there are several property value exemptions that can help ease the pain of taxes by limiting assessments, taxation and assessment increases.

The exemptions can be helpful, but they are not automatic. It is up to home owners, and sometimes renters, to file applications in order to obtain exemptions for which they are eligible.

As noted in the last issue of the Press-Record, thousands of Madison County taxpayers are seeking assessment reconsideration by the Board of Review.

The board has held more than 7,000 hearings, and the total is expected to reach 9,000 before the annual preparation of tax bills begins this summer. Many of those unhappy with their valuations are from Nameoki Township and Granite City.

Each of the 24 townships in Madison County was set up as an assessment district. State law now requires townships with less than 1,000 residents to elect an assessor in conjunction with an adjacent township; as a result, Leef and New Douglas townships jointly form a single assessment district.

Each district elects its assessor, but Hamel Township has none because no one has indicated he or she wants the job.

An assessor has a duty to adjust assessments each year to the approximate level of assessments in his district, taking into account inflation, building modernizations or additions, and changes in the use of property. The assessor usually seeks to view any property before changing its assessment. The law requires him or her to view all properties every fourth year for the quadrennial reassessment.

Supervisor of Assessments James Barton is appointed by the Madison County Board. Other key officials in the taxing process include County Clerk Evelyn Bowles and County Treasurer Michael Henkhaus, both of whom are elected, and the appointive three-member Board of Review, Robert Harris, Fred Finck and Terryl Francis. Each of the latter three is a real estate broker.

In a booklet he has written, and in talks to almost daily gatherings of property owners assembled for hearings, Francis notes that Barton "has the duty to review assessments set by all assessors in the county, and to make changes if he finds errors."

"Since there are 108,491 parcels of property in Madison County and no one can review all of these valuations every year, the supervisor of assessments limits his review to the areas where there are more obvious errors than in other areas."

"The Board of Review has the duty to adjust any assessment errors called to its attention. We ask Mr. Barton to reassess all of certain townships where the valuations appear to be grossly unequal."

Seek artists for registry

The Illinois Arts Council is encouraging Illinois literary, performing, and visual artists to participate in the Illinois Artists Registry, a statewide mailing list of artists. Currently being updated, the registry is expected to be available for use in 1982.

Designed to link artists with professional opportunities, the registry lists each artist's disciplines and areas of specialization, contact information, art affiliation, and representatives. It will be available to individuals, organizations and businesses that need to contact Illinois artists for special projects.

At the same time, the registry is being computerized according to guidelines set by the National Information Systems Project, thereby enlarging opportunities nationwide for artists to be contacted for their services.

Artists wishing to be listed may contact the Illinois Arts Council, 111 N. Wabash Ave., Chicago, 60602. The phone number is 312-793-6749.

Nameoki board again rejects calcium bill

One of the first tests put out by the new Nameoki Town Board when the newly-elected trustees were seated last week was whether the new board would continue to oppose paying a highway department bill the old board refused to pay as being too high.

The first bill submitted to the new board for approval contained a bill from Highway Commissioner Frank Mellich for $699 as the unpaid portion of a bill for a shipment of calcium chloride pellets received last summer.

In January of this year, the old town board rejected a $1,399.50 bill from Universal Research Corp. for 50 bags (two tons) of calcium chloride. Board members contended at that time that the two tons could have been purchased from a St. Louis firm for $588.50 delivered. They contended at that time that Mellich had been "burned" again by the Universal firm, a company he had pledged never to do business with after a Press-Record investigation questioned whether he had paid too much for several commodities supplied by Universal.

Mellich responded that there were two Universal companies, Universal Laboratories of St. Louis and Universal Research of Dallas, Tex. He said he pledged never again to do business with Universal Research after the 1978 newspaper investigation, but did do business with Universal Laboratories, believing it to be a separate company, although Mellich dealt with the same salesman for both companies. The two companies merged in October, 1980, documents indicated.

The old town board in January voted to pay only $700 of the $1,399.50 bill to Universal Laboratories (billed by Universal Research on the invoice) and told Mellich that if he believed the bill was just one, he would have to take the township on the invoice and the remaining $699.50. The board contended that the $700 it agreed to pay was a fair price for the pellets.

Mellich said his own investigation showed that the price for which he was billed, $27 per 50-pound bag, was about mid-range of what other townships were paying and many, including Chouteau Township, had paid more. (G.S. Robins in St. Louis was selling 80-pound bags for $11.77 each, delivered, at that time, research indicated.)

Last week only one rejected trustee on the bill, W. Lee Adams, noticed a bill for $699.50 for Universal on the bill list and suggested, as chairman of finance committee that the bill be separated from the list and voted on separately.

On a motion by Adams, seconded by Don Wilson, the board refused to pay the bill. Mrs. Mellich Hawkins voted with Adams while trustee Joseph Garcia voted to pay the bill. The new supervisor, Harrold, was not present.

Mellich arrived late and was not asked to comment on the bill during the meeting. Later, Adams told reporters that the calcium pellets purchased in 1979 are still in the township garage and have not been touched, although their effectiveness diminishes with age as they absorb moisture.

Adams said he feels the town board acted correctly in rejecting the additional $699.50, which was not even accompanied by another bill, but was put on the bill list by Mellich. "I want to take it to court, fine and dandy," Adams concluded.

Arrests in major GC crimes up 53 percent

Major crimes in Granite City rose slightly during April, but the number of arrests rose significantly, according to the monthly report of the Granite City Police Department.

The report shows a nine percent rise in major crime in April, compared to April 1980, marked by a 55 percent climb in auto theft cases (from 9 to 14), a 34 percent rise in larceny cases (from 83 to 111), a 15 percent increase in assaults (40 to 46 cases) and the number of rape cases went from zero in April 1980 to two last month.

However, there were decreases in all other categories, except homicide, where there were none either month.

A 68 percent decrease in robberies headed the list, as the number of cases dropped from three in April, 1980, to one last month. That was accompanied by a 100 percent drop in burglary cases (58 to 52), and a 24 percent decline in auto burglaries (29 to 22).

Arrests in the major crime categories above were 53 percent higher than in April 1980. A total of 95 major crime cases were solved by arrest last month, compared to 62 major cases solved by arrest in April, 1980. The number of lesser crimes solved by arrest also rose from 72 in April of last year to 124 last month, resulting in an 88 percent increase of cases cleared by arrest of 63 percent. A total of 219 cases of all types were cleared by arrest in April, up from 134 cases in the same month of last year.

One fatal auto-pedestrian injury occurred last month, doubling the number of fatalities this far this year. In the first four months of 1980, there had been one person killed in traffic accidents. There have been two this far into 1981.

The number of personal injury accidents also nearly doubled when comparing the two Aprils. A total of 65 persons were injured in traffic accidents last month, compared to 34 persons hurt in 24 accidents in April, 1980.

In the first four months of this year, 185 persons have been hurt in 123 injury accidents, up from 148 injuries in 104 crashes in the same period of 1980.

The number of property damage accidents not involving injuries decreased 40 percent last month, compared to April, 1980 (110 to 101), and are down 13 percent for the first four months of the year (378 to 433).

Traffic arrests are up 11 percent when comparing the two Aprils (241 in April, 1980, to 267 last month), but traffic arrests are down 16 percent for the first four months of this year (941 in April, 1980, to 794 last month).

With other arrests added, the total number of arrests is up 24 percent (353 to 439) when the two Aprils are compared. Total arrests for the first four months of 1981, however, are down four percent from the same period of 1980, 1,589 to 1,525.

With more than one charged filed against some of those arrested, the total number of charges filed last month was 21 percent higher than the 424 in the same month of 1980, while the total number of charges filed through April, 1981, 1,796, is down three percent from the 1,854 charges filed in the first four months of 1980.

The police department answered 11 calls last month, the monthly report noted.

2 are charged after capture inside school

Two Missouri men were caught inside Johnson elementary school at 2:30 a.m. Thursday.

A police officer on patrol in the area noticed a window open on the west side of the school. After being joined by another officer and by the principal, the policeman entered the building.

The window had been forced open and there was fresh mud on the floor inside, leading down a hall to the school office.

The two intruders were found seated on the floor behind a counter in the office. They were wearing their clothing, and officers confiscated a tire tool and a flashlight.

Investigation showed that the kindergarten room and a classroom also had been entered.

An auto traced to one of the two men was found parked on Norwood Drive at Old Alton Road.

Charged Thursday with criminal damage to property and criminal trespass were Steven B. Taylor, 21, Florissant, Mo., and Frederick J. Starr, 23, St. Louis.

Each was released upon posting a $204 cash bond at 4:45 p.m. Thursday.

Thieves abandon stolen vehicle

Two young men who were seen attempting to steal a riding lawn mower from the fenced-in yard at Madison Lawn and Garden Shop, 1347 Madison Ave., Madison, fled from authorities, abandoning a stolen 1979 Ford Bronco at the scene.

A Granite City Steel security guard notified Madison police that he was watching two young men edge the perimeter of the fenced-in yard, attempting to remove a riding mower through a hole cut in the fence. The Bronco was nearby with the rear gate open and the engine running, the guard said.

When they saw authorities approaching, the two young men fled south in the alley behind the 1300 block of Madison Avenue and the second rear to Granite Avenue and then south. They eluded police.

Madison officers had their vehicle towed to a holding area. They noticed that the ignition had been broken and bypassed and the spare tire had been removed.

14 deputies form Fraternal Order of Police lodge here

Fourteen members of the Madison County Sheriff's Department have organized a lodge and chartered it with the Fraternal Order of Police, but have gone on record as saying the lodge is for the purpose of fellowship and will not be used as a bargaining or negotiating tool.

The group received its charter as the Madison County Sheriff's Department James Abel Memorial Lodge 117 during its first formal meeting Friday evening at the Granite City Moose Lodge.

The chapter was named after the late Granite City sheriff's deputy killed in an on-duty auto accident in Mitchell several years ago. Mr. Abel's father, Bob Abel, operator of Abel's Auto Body, was made an honorary member of the lodge and will serve as secretary.

Deputy Bruce Trotts of Granite City was elected the first president of the lodge. Ted Niekirk of Granite City was selected as vice-president and Don Sonnenberg of Troy was elected secretary-treasurer.

At the meeting, a letter was drafted to Local 520C of the Operating Engineers, which currently is the bargaining agent for sheriff's deputies, explaining Lodge 117's position on collective bargaining, according to Trotts. It was approved unanimously.

The letter states, "This is to advise you that some members of the Madison County Sheriff's Department have founded a local lodge of the Fraternal Order of Police, known as the James Abel Memorial Lodge 117. The chapter was founded for the purpose of fellowship between the admitted members."

"To clarify some misconceptions printed in the (area) press, we would further advise you that the members present at the initial meeting voted unanimously to publicly state that we are not engaged in collective bargaining for our members. We do not intend to even consider serving as a collective bargaining unit for the sheriff's deputies, and we will not apply for recognition as a collective bargaining unit with any employee or employer."

The James Abel Memorial Chapter of the Fraternal Order of Police is simply that, a "fraternal organization and will remain that way," the letter continued.

Trotts told the Press-Record that the statements made by one of the group's members and printed in area news media indicated that the new FOP chapter may try to introduce some "FOP-type ideas into the next contract." Trotts said the statement is inaccurate and the county has enough labor problems with the current dispute between the Teamsters and the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees for representation of county employees without introducing a new bargaining agent into the situation.

He said the sheriff's deputies will continue to be represented by Operating Engineers Local 520C. "We are happy with the Operating Engineers and with our contract and do not intend to change that," Trotts said.

Break-in at Lake School

Lake elementary school on E. 23rd Street was entered during the weekend by an intruder who removed a window.

At least six classrooms were visited, with desks and cabinets ransacked. In the cafeteria kitchen, refrigerators and freezers were entered.

It was not immediately determined whether anything is missing. The break-in was discovered by police on patrol at 11:30 last night.

TWO CHARGED WITH TAVERN VIOLATIONS

Kenneth R. Archer, 55, of 1537a E. 20th St., was charged with operating Ken's Lounge, 20th Street and Washington Avenue, at 10:11 a.m. Sunday and Alfred R. Watson, 47, of 2533 Benton St., was arrested for allegedly operating Hook's Tavern, 21st and Adams streets, at 10:51 a.m. Sunday.

City tavern laws require that liquor not be served until the afternoon on Sundays. Each man was released on a $35 cash bond after being booked.

GIRL HIT BY CAR

Five-year-old Tiffany Griggs, East St. Louis, was injured when she was struck by the car of Dorothy Wiles, 181 Viola Jones Homes, Venice, in the 1000 block of Douglas Street in Venice at 1 a.m. Saturday.

The driver said she was west-bound when the girl ran into the street from between a parked car and a truck. The girl was struck in the back of the car. Tiffany was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where she was admitted with abrasions to her face and forehead and pain to her left arm and elbow.

TRUCK IS STOLEN

A red 1979 Chevrolet pickup truck with National Auto Supply emblem on both sides was stolen from the supply firm's property at 191 Street and Madison Avenue between 4 p.m. Thursday and 8:30 a.m. Friday.

Work in street areas also caused the street department to barricade Myrtle Avenue, which remained closed this morning.

More veterans enrolling

Large numbers of veterans and their dependents continue to enroll at Belleville Area College using the benefits provided for them.

Approximately 750 students were enrolled under the GI Bill during the spring semester at BAC, and 725 were using the Illinois Veterans Scholarship. (Some of the benefit recipients were eligible for both programs.)

Children and spouses of disabled or deceased veterans are eligible for educational benefits under numerous circumstances. BAC Veterans Services Director Ted Lewis encourages all dependents of disabled or deceased veterans to investigate the possibility that they qualify for such benefits.

The "GI Bill" is still available to those veterans and service personnel who entered the military before January 1, 1977, if they were released under other than dishonorable conditions after having served 180 days of active duty.

Veterans have ten years from the date of discharge to use those benefits; however, the "GI Bill" will expire completely on Dec. 31.

Benefits are based on whether the student is a part-time or full-time student and how many benefits the veteran is claiming. The number of months of schooling under the "GI Bill" depends on total active duty time.

Lewis said that military people on active duty receive only tuition and fees. The same is true for veterans pursuing their programs at less than a half-time rate.

Another program, the Veterans Educational Assistance Program, provides benefits to veterans and active duty personnel who contributed to the program while in the service. Benefits are computed on how much money the student contributed to the VEAP and the amount of time necessary for the student to complete the educational program.

Additional benefits provided for veterans include vocational rehabilitation, tutoring, and professional counseling.

The Illinois Veterans Scholarship (IVS) provides assistance to those who entered the military as residents of Illinois and who returned to the state within six months of discharge.

Most veterans must have had one year of active duty and an honorable discharge to be eligible for the IVS, but those who entered active duty before Aug. 11, 1967 and those who were discharged for physical reasons are possibly eligible.

Spouses and children of veterans whose death of permanent, total disability was service-connected as well as children of fathers who were, on active duty during wartime and who have subsequently died from non-related causes may be eligible for educational benefits.

The Belleville Area College Veterans Services Office, located in Room 2286 at the 2500 Carlyle Road campus, is staffed to advise students of their benefits and eligibility and to discuss academic and career goals. Lewis said that it is vital that any student who is receiving veterans benefits notify his office of problems, withdrawals, or changes in status. "We'll be glad to help in any way we can," he said.

Bravery aided in captures

(Reprinted by permission from the Edwardsville Intelligencer.)

It was after 4 p.m. on a crisp February afternoon — just about quitting time for Dorothy Nenninger. She was tired and ready to go home. The drive from Mercer's Mortuary, where Mrs. Nenninger works, to her home in Namook Township, isn't far. It takes her only a few minutes to make the trip.

There were a few things she needed from the store, though, and as she drove, she decided to stop and do some shopping.

For some reason, however, she changed her mind at the last minute and sped by the store, heading on home instead. There was no calculation behind the change in plans. Just a snap decision.

As she pulled into the driveway, Mrs. Nenninger thought about what to fix for supper for her and her husband, John. He was at the dentist that day but she knew he would be getting back soon and she hurried up to the carport door.

When she reached to put her key into the lock, she saw that the door was standing open slightly. It puzzled her, but she pushed it open and went inside without giving it much thought.

The two men were standing in the kitchen by the sliding glass door that leads to the backyard. "The first thing I said when I saw them standing there was what were they doing in my house?" Mrs. Nenninger recalled. "I had absolutely no idea what was going on, but I knew they weren't supposed to be where they were so I asked them again. They didn't answer me either time."

Perhaps it was the nature of her job at the mortuary that kept Mrs. Nenninger from panicking as she stood looking at the two strangers in her kitchen. She has seen many things in that job that most people wouldn't even dream about.

Whatever the reason, Mrs. Nenninger reacted in a way that certainly took the two intruders by surprise. "They didn't say anything at first," she recalled. "One of them headed in my direction, then the other followed him. I asked them again what they were doing there and the taller of the two said that they were looking for my husband. They didn't touch me when they walked by me. They just went right on out the door I had just come in."

"Well, I didn't know what to do," she added, "so I followed them out the door. There was a pickup truck parked just down the street and that's where they headed. I still didn't know exactly what was going on, but I remember I pulled out a piece of scrap paper and a pen from my purse and tried to get the license number of the truck."

"Then, one of the guys got out and walked around to the back and bent up the license plate so I couldn't read it," she explained.

"I realized at that point, I think, that they were trying to rob me. So when the driver went back to get in the truck I walked up an bent the plate back down. I didn't really stop to think what I was doing. I just did it."

Mrs. Nenninger did, in fact, get the number of the truck and her resourcefulness led to the arrest of three men involved in that attempted daylight burglary.

But Mrs. Nenninger was lucky. She was lucky that she escaped without injury. She was lucky that the surprised intruders made no attempt to harm her. And, she was lucky that the men were later apprehended.

However, at least 28 other families in Madison County have not been as lucky during the last three months. County authorities say that at least 28 homes have been hit by as many as three burglary "rings" during this time. None of the cases has been solved.

Mrs. Nenninger is one of a series of victims — victims who usually return home from work to find much of what they've worked for, gone. Stolen. Most of the time it's jewelry or coins or portable items which are taken.

And rarely do these victims ever see their belongings again.

"I worked hard to pay for the things I've bought for my husband," Mrs. Nenninger said. "I took every penny I had to pay for those things, like his diamond ring. We're just normal people who work for a living and it makes me furious to think that all of it could have been gone. If I hadn't come home when I did."

The monetary and sentimental value attached to property is, of course, something which must be considered too.

And fear. The fear which a victim has in the middle of the night, wondering if it will ever happen again, wondering what might happen to himself or to loved ones.

"I'm still afraid to come home by myself," Mrs. Nenninger admitted. "I woke up last night thinking about what might have happened to me. I remember, after the deputies arrived and it really dawned on me what had just happened, I started shaking. I was OK while it was going on. Furious, actually. But when it was all over I started shaking like a leaf."

"It's frightening," she added. "Really frightening. I just hope I never go through it again."

Gardenaires Club tours treatment plant

THE WATER TREATMENT PLANT of Granite City Steel Division of the National Steel Corp. was one of two treatment plants in Granite City toured by members of the Gardenaires Club as part of the club's monthly meeting for May. Garden clubs affiliated with the District V Garden Clubs of Illinois are observing "water and clean streams" as their conservation program for the month. The group first visited the city's waste treatment plant then toured the steel company's facilities on the northwest side of Horseshoe Lake. J. R. Parmley, general superintendent of maintenance, explained the operation of the plant and with the help of Del Coy, assistant general foreman of Granite City Steel, conducted a tour of the plant. In the photo at left, club members observed the back washing of a filtering tank, a primary function in the treatment of water used in the steel making process. Coy is seen gesturing. In the photo above the discharge trough which leads to the lake is explained. The group is escorted from the facilities at the end of the tour by Parmley. It was the first time that a women's group had toured either facility. The group included Mesdames Robert Hantz, the Board chairman, Richard Kerch, Charles Kohl, Mary Kristian, William Long, Leo Shank, Alex Tarpoff and Andrew Gonzalez. A short business meeting was conducted after the tours.

6 exemptions

"The law requires the supervisor of assessments and members of the Board of Review to pass a test showing their ability to appraise real estate.

"The law now requires some elected assessors to be certified Illinois assessment officials, meaning they must have completed certain course work—given or sponsored by the Illinois Department of Revenue—to get on the ballot. These courses are available to all assessment officials."

Even with the training and experience requirements for the elected and appointed people who judge property values are home, store and factory assessments actually correct and fair? If so, why are thousands of hearings necessary?

Francis answers, "An assessment official is doing his job when he assesses everyone by the same standard—by the same yardstick as everyone else."

"Except in the case of farm land and farm buildings, that standard is the fair cash market value."

"Market value is the price you should have to pay for your property if you purchased it today. It isn't necessarily what you did pay for your property."

"You may have spent too much improving your property. You may have bought property next door to expand your business—and paid a premium for it, more than the market generally would pay."

"To live next door to your mother, you may have paid more for a house than it should be sold for. Because of some hidden defect, you may have paid more for a home than it is worth."

"Speculators in real estate and developers may pay less than the general market."

"It isn't what you paid for the property, but what the market generally would pay, that determines its value."

"We on the review board have met many dedicated assessors. They want to be helpful and to treat everyone as they themselves like to be treated—the Golden Rule."

"They are aware that, often, even experts don't agree on what a particular property is worth. So, they are always seeking more knowledge."

"Expert opinion is the ultimate tool. Even a good assessor occasionally may have a poor result, but most of his assessments will be fair."

"A way to measure had assessment practices is to look at the sale and assessment ratio in your township. Notice whether the assessments are clustered closely, or not closely, around the median. If there is a wide range, your assessor isn't doing his job."

"When a property sells, the person recording the deed must file a real estate transfer declaration stating the sale price. The ratio that the assessment bears to the sale price is the sales ratio."

"Not all sales are used in computing the ratio. Sales to neighbors and relatives are not considered."

"The middle or mean ratio is considered the level of assessment of a township. In townships with fewer than 25 usable sales in a year, the sales are supplemented by appraisals."

"If someone's property is left off the books or is assessed far below its value, you and I pay his taxes, because he is assessed too low, total valuations are lower and our tax rates are higher."

"Property record cards and all assessment records are public. You may see your own or your neighbor's. The quality depends on their completeness and accuracy."

"Whose duty is it to report someone who is assessed too low, or who is left off the books completely? We think it is everyone's duty as a citizen."

"All have a duty to make the system work as fairly as possible for all of us. If you know about an improper assessment, let a Board of Review member know."

Another duty is to strive for the right assessment of one's own property, and part of this involves filing for exemptions.

One action that nearly every Madison County home owner may wish to consider taking now is to submit the 1981 application for partial exemption under Senate Bill 1790 (reduction of owner-occupied residential real estate up to $3,000 assessed valuation)."

Forms given out at hearings last week compare the 1977 and 1981 assessed values and provide an exemption for up to $3,000 of the inflation-related assessment increase during that period of time.

Francis comments, "About 10 percent of the home owners having Board of Review hearings who are otherwise qualified for Bill 1790 exemption receive no exemption because they were overassessed to begin with and have been left at or cut back to the 1977 level."

"Another 30 percent do not get a large 1790 exemption for the same reason."

"Those people find that their tax bills are higher because of the exemption. Why? Total assessed values are reduced in each taxing district by the total amount of the exemptions. When the valuations are lower, tax rates usually are higher if the budget remains the same."

"Another problem with 1790 is that not everyone entitled to it gets it. The assessment cutback must be applied for, since there is no other way we can tell that a property is eligible."

"Many fail to receive the exemption because they don't know about it. And some who are entitled to it don't get it because of administrative error; they have applied, but the reduction just doesn't get on their tax bill."

"Besides these inequities, 1790 is expensive to administer. Extra personnel are needed in the various assessing offices, at the review board, in the clerk's office and in the treasurer's office."

"Estimates of its cost countywide range from $250,000 to $500,000 a year."

"We question this use of our tax dollars, because the same goal could be achieved in other ways. If the legislature thinks residential properties should be assessed lower than other property, it could assess homes at 30 or 25 percent of value instead of 33 1/3. This kind of law would be easier to administer, less expensive, and fairer."

"If we keep Bill 1790, the Board of Review should be given authority to make adjustments so that the person overassessed in 1977 would be able to receive its benefits."

What are the other exemptions? "You may apply for the homestead exemption in January following your 65th birthday (or your spouse's 65th) and it applies to that year's assessments. You pay taxes on that assessment about a year and a half later."

"You must reapply every year. It reduces your assessment $1,500."

"Regardless of your age, if you make improvements to your house, which result in a higher assessment, you are eligible for a homestead improvement exemption for the amount of that increased assessment up to $25,000 each year for four years."

"To apply, submit copies of your bills with the appropriate form to the Board of Review."

"The application may be picked up from your local assessor or from the supervisor of assessments office on the first floor of the old Bank of Edwardsville building across the street from the County Courthouse. The address is 101 Purcell St., Edwardsville 62025 and the telephone number is 656-8305. The review board office is at the same address."

"Circuit breaker is a form of direct tax relief, not an exemption of part of one's assessment. This form may be picked up at the county clerk's office on the second floor of the Courthouse, or at most senior citizen centers."

"Circuit breaker provides that if a member of the family is over 65 and the total family income including pension income is under $12,000—or if a family member under 65 is permanently and totally disabled and the total family income is less than $12,000—one may apply to the state of Illinois for a rebate of all or part of his property taxes."

"But circuit breaker does not work just for property owners. Qualified people who rent their homes also may apply to have part of their rent attributable to property taxes refunded."

"A widow disabled or over 65 who never owned nor rented property, but who lives with her children or in a nursing home, also may apply to have a portion of her sales tax refunded. Most senior centers provide help in filling out the form."

"Let's not forget farm land and farm buildings exemptions."

"The General Assembly has provided that farm assessments must be made by a different standard."

"Other valuations are based on the value of the property in the marketplace. Farm assessments are based on a complicated formula that considers the value of the land, its productivity and the value of what is produced on the land."

"Also, farm land assessments in 1980 can be increased only eight percent over what they should have been in 1977. Under this formula, farm land is assessed much lower than would otherwise be the case."

"Farm buildings other than the home are assessed on their own value. A dairy barn no longer used wouldn't be assessed. If it were partly used, or used for another purpose, its assessment would be based on that use value."

"Unfortunately, use value is often quite difficult to set."

"Farm homes are assessed at their fair cash market value, as any other home, and are entitled to the same exemptions as any other residence. Multipliers are also applied to farm homes."

There also is a veterans' exemption. Some disabled veterans for whom the government supplies housing are entitled to a $30,000 exemption."

Although they reduce the county's overall assessed valuation to roughly a billion dollars, most exemptions are not resented by the Board of Review, which nevertheless points out the cost to administer them.

"Exemptions and direct tax relief are legitimate methods of making social adjustments in our tax structure," Francis believes.

"The homestead exemption and circuit breaker, for instance, help people in their senior years, when income is limited, to remain in their homes. This benefits everyone by bolstering our neighborhoods."

"I personally think that these types of tax relief should be made available to widows who have been homemakers all their lives and who have little ability to earn a living in the job market. But assessment officials cannot make social adjustments in assessments."

"The only people who can do this are our legislators. Those who disagree with some of the present adjustments or think there should be still other adjustments, may want to let their legislators know of their views."

"I referred earlier to multipliers. A multiplier is a percentage increase in all assessments within an assessment area—a township, or a county. A negative multiplier is a percentage decrease in all assessments within an area."

"The state uses multipliers to bring one county in line with another when it distributes state school funds, highway funds, and public aid. Part of the formulas for state fund distribution depends on the assessed valuation in each county."

"The Board of Review redistributes the state multiplier—it has been 1 for this county for a number of years—between the various townships to bring them to a common level of assessment within the county."

"The goal of these multipliers is a fairer distribution of the tax burden. Is fairness being achieved?"

Review board members agree that it isn't being fully attained, but say they have made a number of procedural changes over the years to move closer to their ideal—perfection in property valuation."

of many years. "When I left Paris, I had one nephew, now I have 24," she laughed.

She despairs of son Dan's single status. "If he would just get married, I could get some more grandbabies," she said.

Mrs. Alexander said her relatives had a very good time here and really enjoyed their visit, the first trip they had made to the United States.

"We went to see the Arch and riverfront in St. Louis and visited Pere Marquette State Park, among other places."

"They really liked shopping in Granite City and St. Louis. The prices here are so much cheaper than in France and they bought lots of things to take home," Mrs. Alexander commented.

Mrs. Catherine and Mr. and Mrs. Gloriot left for France the first week in May.

About her retirement, Mrs. Alexander said she may continue to work privately as a seamstress at home for a while.

Being French, Blanche enjoys pretty things, dressmaking ("It's in my blood," she says) and cooking delicacies.

Being a Granite City resident for the past 33 years apparently has not diminished her talents in any of these areas, according to her family and former co-workers.

Hollenbeck said he was asleep when he heard the truck's horn sounding. He looked outside, saw the teen inside the truck's cab and detained him until police arrived. He signed a state complaint against Birk, who was jailed.

Weber. The county assessing officials are appointed by Democrat Nelson Hagmann, chairman of the Madison County Board, with board concurrence.

In addition to formally clearing Barton and the Board of Review, the grand jury suggested Thursday that Weber release to the 26-member County Board a 350-page report prepared by the Illinois Division of Criminal Investigation.

Weber said he feels the County Board may wish to consider the DCI report in deciding whether to continue Barton as supervisor of assessments. Byron, now an associate judge, led a grand jury investigation which concluded that Barton had followed practices utilized in other counties and had not violated any laws.

70 at Golden Agers dinner

Seventy members and guests attended the May polluck dinner of the Golden Agers Senior Club held at the Kirkpatrick Homes Recreation Center last week. The dinner tables were decorated by Vi Scrivner and Evelyn Davis with vases of fresh garden flowers.

The flowers, a gift of Randall Irwin, a guest, were later awarded as prizes to Grace Padlock, Elsie Staggs, Edith Young and Frances Westbrook.

Following the meal, the remainder of the afternoon was spent at games. Those excelling and winning prizes were Belle Koher, Juanita Crawley, Art Rankin, Caroline Lux, Evelyn Davis and Ruth Ray.

The entrance for the dinner was ham, provided by Bob Thomas Mortuaries, with side dishes and desserts furnished by club members.

Wolf criticizes vote on bus fare

State Representative Sam Wolf (D-Granite City) blamed opposition from Chicago legislators for the defeat of an amendment that would have raised bus fares on the Regional Transportation Authority in the Chicago area.

"The people who use the RTA should pay the cost of operating the RTA, not Downstate taxpayers," Wolf said.

"Our tax money is needed to maintain our crumbling highways."

Wolf was part of a bipartisan group of Downstate legislators who last week attempted to amend House Bill 240 to require riders of RTA buses to pay a "transportation user fee." This would raise fares by 75 percent from the present $.80 fare to a $1.40 fare. The amendment failed by a 53 to 77 vote.

"Buses are the most expensive part of the RTA to run," Wolf said. "Therefore, the people who use the buses should pay more to support the actual cost of their transportation."

Wolf said he is opposed to any bail-out of the RTA that would require Downstate taxpayers to pay higher gasoline taxes.

"Downstate cannot continue to subsidize the RTA," Wolf said. "Our tax money can be put to better use improving our deteriorating highways rather than be used to prop up the inefficient RTA."

Wolf said he would continue his efforts to make sure Downstate gets the money it needs for roads.

Chromalloy reports $197.9 million gross

Shareholders at the annual meeting of Chromalloy American Corporation were told yesterday that the increasingly strong performance of the multi-industry company's basic or core businesses is a result of a decision three years ago.

To concentrate our capital resources on businesses with market leadership characteristics and the potential for above-average profitability."

Frank P. Nykiel, president and chief executive officer, said Chromalloy has, thus far, realized gross proceeds of $197.9 million from a divestiture program begun in 1978 when it became apparent the company owned too many marginal and money-losing businesses.

He pointed out that proceeds from the sale of various businesses have been redeployed, "to meet capital requirements of the basic businesses around which we are shaping the company's future and to reduce debt."

Nykiel said Chromalloy expects to realize another $75 to $100 million from the sale of 12 to 15 other businesses this year and in 1982.

Norman E. Alexander, chairman of the board, said one of his primary objectives for Chromalloy since becoming chairman in 1980 has been to foster a new spirit of unity and stability throughout the company.

"By stability, I mean the establishment of an environment that allows for a kind of growth that is measured not only by immediate results, but also by the achievement of long-term corporate goals. It will take time for Chromalloy to realize its full potential, but we have made a good beginning," Alexander is chairman and chief executive officer of Sun Chemical Corporation, New York, as well as chairman of Chromalloy.

Pre-Coal Metals in Granite City is among Chromalloy's properties.

At the annual meeting yesterday, 16 incumbent directors were re-elected. The shareholders approved a proposed non-qualified stock option plan, designed to help Chromalloy attract and retain a qualified management by providing key employees with stock options and alternative stock appreciation rights. An existing stock purchase and savings plan and an existing bonus plan were also approved.

Students attending were Paul Walker, Owen West, Alma Ware, Karen Schrader, Jason Merchant, Mellany Marchbanks and Lynnette Crawford.

Trojanettes bring home medal

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

CHARLESTON — Luvonia Long was worried. As head coach of the Madison High girls track team, she was tired of going home from the State Finals with nothing to show for it but some tired muscles and bruised egos. But this year's team was different. She knew that. The Trojanettes' 800 meter relay team ran their best time of the season here Saturday in the finals at the Class A (small school) State Finals at Eastern Illinois University and finished fourth — good enough to bring home a medal. "I told them this was it," said Long. "They had to do it this time, or we'd go home with nothing. And I was tired of that. I told them I didn't want anything less than fourth."

The girls, Regina Banks, Jerri Ann Ware, Leesa Lovett and Traci Smith, didn't disappoint their coach. They ran a 1:48.1. Lisle Senior won the event with a time of 1:45.9.

Peoria Bergan won the team title among small schools with 42 points. New Lenox Providence was second with 36. Madison finished with five team points (complete results in scorebook).

But Madison's luck in the other events wasn't as good. Chalk it down to experience. Regina Banks, the freshman phenom for Madison who qualified for the State Meet with a time of 1:45.9, simply had the jitters. She was disqualified in the 100 meter hurdles because of a false start and failed to qualify for the finals when she ran a preliminary 31.6 in Friday's preliminaries of the 200 meter hurdles.

"She (Banks) gave me excuses at first," said Long. "But now she realizes it all boils down to the fact that she got nervous. She's young, though. She's got three more years." Of her false start, Banks put it philosophically when she said, "If they hadn't shot the gun off twice, I'd been way ahead of everybody."

Madison's 800 meter medley team ran its best time of the season, but didn't qualify for the Saturday finals. The Trojanettes ran a 1:35.8 Friday. The eventual winning time Saturday was a 1:49.8 by Lisle Senior. Terri Smith, Madison state qualifier in the 200 meter dash, ran excellent times in the preliminaries, but fell back in the pack in the semifinals. "I don't know what happened to her," said Long. "She just didn't run as well as she could have. The atmosphere (at the State Finals) is so much different from a regular track meet. It gives the girls the jitters sometimes."

Madison's 1600 meter relay team, Banks's fourth event, did not qualify for the finals. It ran a 4:25.9. "I'm sure we could have done better, but I can't complain," said Long. "We've had an uphill battle all season. I'm happy with the way they've come through this season."

CLASS AA MEET
Chicago South Shore edged defending large school champion East St. Louis Lincoln for the team championship 52-48 with a victory in the 1600 meter relay — the last event of the meet. East St. Louis Senior finished third with 44 points. Other area teams scoring were Edwardsville 4 and Belleville East 3.

South starts things right in regional win

By TOM SCHOCKER
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — A point needed to be made. A very strong point, indeed. Let it be known that the Granite City South girls softball team is not about to take the remainder of its season lightly. It did enough of that during the regular season. In the opening game of the Alton Marquette Regional here Saturday, the Warriors went out and quickly routed their opponent.

It's come down to do-or-die for South's season and it wants all the doing. The Warriors, behind an outstanding three-hitter from Karen Spencer, walked over Brussels 12-1 in five innings. They now move to quarterfinal action at home Thursday against the winner of the Edwardsville-East St. Louis Lincoln contest.

Warrior head coach Pat Yates has been waiting for this all season. South now 12-6, has won and lost a majority of its games based on the temperaments of its one and only pitcher, Karen Spencer. "If she's on her game, all South needs to do is hit the ball. Yates got both."

Having pitched the Warriors to a 3-1 Gateway East Conference win Friday (see related story), Spencer had to come back against Brussels at 10 a.m. the next morning. She admitted she was a little tired. This was evident when she walked eight Raiders. But the walks were overshadowed by her remarkable 10 strike-outs. "We haven't had that much practice, because of the rain," said Spencer. "I wouldn't have been that tired if I wouldn't have had to pitch yesterday (Friday). But I feel real good. I believe I have thrown a pitch over Chris' (catcher Boyd) head in a long time."

The pitches were just perfect. Once Spencer got into a groove, she seemed to toy with the Brussels' ego. Giving up only three walks, she managed to put a Raider on in every inning and still pitch her way out.

Striking out the first two outs in the third, Spencer allowed Brussels' third hit of the game. It set up a first and third situation for the Raiders. But Spencer struck out the last batter. Again in the fourth, she gave Brussels a hit, but never a bit when she loaded up the bases and even walked in its only run before striking out the final batter.

"We proved anything is possible," said Raider head coach Dave Franke. "We beat a team last week that was undefeated in our conference. In a game like this, you can only expect your players to make the plays on defense. At the plate, they just had to swing on a two strike count." Spencer ended the game in style by walking the lead-off batter and then striking out the side. In all, Spencer forced Brussels into leaving 11 runners on base. "The week off had something to do with Karen's walks," said Yates. "She looked pretty sharp against Edwardsville (Friday), but she managed to get herself out of her own predicaments."

Half of South's strength was there for Yates in Spencer. The other half went to full gear with Tina Sedabres and Vickie Smith. "Sedabres and Smith play a big part in our success," said Yates. "The rest of the team feels confident when they are able to get on base. But if they don't, we have others that will pick them up." The duo didn't need any help sparking the rout. In fact, once they started, the rest of the team joined in.

Scoring three times in the first, the Warriors and Sedabres showed their stuff in the second. Kathy Fiegl led-off the inning with a solo home run. "That's her (Fiegl) type of pitching," said Yates. "She's very good against slow ball pitching." After one out, Sedabres singled and then stole second and third. Ann Chepley followed up with an RBI fly ball.

Spencer helped her own cause with a ground-out RBI in the fourth, but it seemed South was tired of this couple-of-runs-here-and-there routine and put an end to the contest in the fifth.

Kim Ross, Spencer, Sedabres and Chepley came up with RBI in the fifth, but Smith's blast was the clincher. With the bases loaded and two outs, Smith ripped a game winning double as South scored six times on five hits. Five of the runs came after two were out.

"Vickie (Smith) likes to hit the ball," said Yates. "She'll go after the first pitch. I like that. And Tina, well, she likes to get on base and run any way possible. I'm pleased to see we hit the ball well."

GEORGE SYKES of Granite City South returns a volley Saturday during doubles action in the South District Tennis Meet at Wilson Park. Sykes and teammate Matt Sheridan finished second. The Warriors easily won the team championship.

South netters win district

GRANITE CITY — It was business as usual for Saturday in the finals of the Granite City South Boys Tennis District Meet: Defending champion Granite City South ran away with the team championship and the rest had to scramble for the scraps.

South finished with 14½ points, well ahead of second place Alton, which finished with only 6 points. Wood River was third with 5½ followed by Granite City North 3, Roxana 2, Jerseyville and Bethalto 1 each.

It was an all-Granite City South singles final. And it was a dandy. South's Tom Longos won the singles title with a thrilling 7-5, 7-5 victory over teammate John Menendez in the title match. But Alton's Joe Ingram and Tom Walters were able to put the only damper on South's celebration. They defeated South Warriors George Sykes and Matt Sheridan 6-0, 6-0 in the final match of the doubles competition.

South's Ed Schmuhlach and Don Cook took third place honors in the doubles competition. They defeated Wood River's Barry Craig and Tony Trujillo 6-0, 6-0 in the third place match.

In doubles semifinal action, Schmuhlach and Cook were defeated by Ingram and Walters 6-3, 6-2. Sykes and Sheridan defeated Craig and Trujillo 6-0, 6-0.

In preliminary singles action, Granite City North's Kendall Whittington defeated Eric Stoutenborough of Alton 4-6, 7-6, 6-4. Matt Crahan of Bethalto defeated North's Jessy Byrd 6-3, 1 singles quarterfinals action, Longos defeated Bethalto Scott House easily 6-0, 6-0. Wood River's Brock Boreman defeated Whittington 4-6, 6-3, 6-4. Menendez defeated Crahan 6-0, 6-0.

In singles semifinals, Longos defeated Boreman 6-4, 6-2 and Menendez defeated Roxana Hamid Shakiba 7-5, 6-4. South will advance to the State Tennis Meet next Friday and Saturday in Arlington Heights.

In other district action around the area, O'Fallon captured the Mascoutah District, Belleville East won its own district and Centralia won the Highland District. At Belleville East, the host Lancers edged Belleville Althoff 13½-11½ for their first district tennis championship ever. O'Fallon, as expected, had little trouble in winning at Mascoutah. At Highland, Centralia edged the host Bulldogs 8½-4½ for the team championship.

Rozycki rules hurdles and makes history in process

BELLEVILLE — What more can Tim Rozycki do? He accomplished a feat here Friday that hasn't been done by a Granite City since the school system had one high school some nine years ago. That's the last time someone other than an East St. Louis school track member has won the 110 meter hurdles. All Rozycki has left to do is win a state title and he'll get that chance.

Rozycki, along with teammate Mike Long of the two schools, as usual, completely dominated the meet with the Flyers scoring 77½ points, nudging out Lincoln, which had 77. Alton was a distant third at 45. North finished in a tie for sixth with Belleville West at 10 points, while South and Cahokia each had four for a ninth place tie.

The Flyers and Tigers put their mark on just about every event. But they just couldn't touch Rozycki. He won the 110 meter high hurdles in a time of 14.4. It adds to his list of accomplishments, because he also broke the school record of 14.6 held by Dave Kwiatkowski.

The team championship went to East St. Louis Senior as it had its annual fight with East St. Louis Lincoln. The will be one of the faster times in the state. This race is like the 100 yard dash for the East St. Louis schools. That's why it's so outstanding. And to think, Rozycki almost didn't make it to the finals. According to Lang, Rozycki, in his preliminary heat, was kicked by a Cahokia runner and had to bunny hop the final hurdle. He still finished second and was a clear underdog for the finals. "He actually won the meet for East St. Louis," said Lang. "He beat out a Lincoln runner for first."

Rozycki will not be the only one who had to fight for his place. South's Geisler had a battle of his own in taking second in the mile run. His time of 4:21.2 was just nipped at the tape by Mike

track & field

The third and final state qualifier from Granite City came from North's Long in the shot put. Plagued by a sore finger, Long concentrated his efforts on the shot, where he has been so successful all season. "I sensed the shot might be in the discus, too, if not for the injury."

All-Stars thrill fans and have some fun

Special to the Press-Record

BELLEVILLE—It was fun. At LEAST it was fun. The annual WIBV All-Star basketball game was played under a different format this year. And how.

The game (or GAMES) took place at Belleville Area College Saturday. Instead of the usual 40-minute Class AA vs. Class A senior all-stars game, the best senior players from both classes were divided evenly into four teams. They played each other in 20 minute games. The overall winner of the wild four-game tournament was "Team A," made up of Madison's Charles Claggett and Pat Hatter, Assumption's Tony White, 14, McKinney of East St. Louis, Thad Floore of East St. Louis, Paul Seiberlich of Highland, Vernon Harris, Worden, Larry Hubbard of Waterloo and Rick Doerr of Dupu. The team finished the day with a 2-0 record.

But entertainment was the name of the game. And players from Madison's state championship team were at the top of the list of crowd-pleasers. Take Patrick Hatter, or Charles Claggett or Kerwin Stanley or Morris Hughes and put them in an all-star basketball game and you'll hear some oohs and ahs. And they did it all in spite of arriving

Assistants named

MADISON—Madison High basketball coach Larry Graham has named his assistants for the annual Illinois Basketball Coaches Association All-Star game, June 27 at Bradley University in Peoria. Graham, who coached the Trojans to the 1981 Class A state championship, has named his own assistant at Madison's Dave Hodges, and Bunker Hill head coach Jim Haffa to assist him in coaching the Class A South All-Stars.

Officials named for the games were Ed Hightower of Alton, Delbert Maroon of Alton, Danny Friend of Barrington, Larry Peddy of Elk Grove Village, Larry Leitner of Pekin, Ed Norfleet of Monticello.

late for the games. In Team A's win over Team B in the first game, Hatter punted in five of his first seven shots for the losers. Team A won 43-40. Hatter scored 11 points.

Team C beat Team D in the second game, 55-54. Cahokia's Jon Collins was the hero in that one, scoring 17 points. He won the game with a 14-footer with six seconds remaining in the contest. Stanley scored seven points for Team D and Hughes had six.

In the third game, Team B beat Team C 58-46 behind Tommy Johnson of (East St. Louis), who scored 21 points. Hatter had 12 points in that one. Granite City South's Eric Waltenberger scored two points for the losers. The final game ("the championship") belonged to Team A. Behind 15 points by Claggett, it beat Team D 50-38 after a slow start. Hughes scored five points for the losers. Stanley, also playing for Team D, did not score.

In total scoring for the four games, Claggett led all scorers with 27 points. Lincoln's Spanky Wilson and East Side's Johnson had 24 each, while Hatter had a total of 23.

Kristoff honored

Special to the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE

Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville wrestling coach Larry Kristoff this summer will add two impressive credentials to his career as a wrestling coach.

Kristoff has been named to coach a team composed of the United States' best wrestlers to compete in Camaguey, Cuba, June 2-8. He was named to this post by the National Coaching Staff a few weeks ago. He will also be coaching the World Games Team that will travel to Skopje, Yugoslavia in September.

According to Kristoff, the team going to Cuba will consist of wrestlers who have been out of college a few years. He stressed the fact that this team will be the best the United States has.

"We are going to put our best team on the mat," Kristoff said. "There will be some pretty good competition at the tournament, and we should be ready."

Kristoff looks for good competition from Russia, Poland, Bulgaria, Mongolia and Cuba. He said the matches in Cuba are really a test for the wrestlers who should qualify for the World Games.

"This should give the team experience, and an advantage for the upcoming World Games in September," Kristoff said.

Since Kristoff came to SIUE in 1969, he has stayed active in the wrestling world. For the past four years, he has been both a member of the National Coaching Staff and an assistant coach for the World Games Team. In 1975, he coached the U.S. team which participated in the Moscow Spartiate.

Kristoff, a heavyweight in wrestling competition and graduate of SIU-Carbondale, captured two college division championships and an Amateur Athletic Union title. He then went on to win 15 AAT National Wrestling Federation crowns, the Pan American Games three silver medals and two bronzes in Olympic and World competition.

Madison ninth

ANNA — Richard Borney was Madison High's only State Finals qualifier here Saturday at the Class A (small school) boys district track meet. And he did it in a big way.

Borney won the finals of the 400 meter dash in a time of 50.61 seconds, just ahead of Freeburg's Dave Lain, who ran a 50.74.

Anna-Jonesboro won the team championship. And as expected, it was a battle between the Wildcats and Freeburg's Midcats for the championship. Anna-Jonesboro finished with 49½ points. Freeburg had 40½.

Madison finished in a tie for ninth place with Nashville. Both finished with 19½ points.

Complete results in today's scoreboard.

Steelers fall to O'Fallon in finale

O'FALLON — Nobody said the rest of the season was going to be easy. Bob Stogemeier didn't expect it to be. He just wanted his team in tune for the regional tournament this weekend.

What Stogemeier, Granite City North's head baseball coach, got here Saturday was a proving performance that his Steelers will be giving opponents a run for its money.

Despite losing two games, 3-2 and 1-37, to very competitive and unheralded O'Fallon team, North was able to come away from the doubleheader with its heads raised. The Panthers are now 25-6.

"Going by the poll ratings and by their O'Fallon record, O'Fallon is the best team on this side of the river," said Stogemeier.

North's bark was bigger than its bite as it threatened in five of the first six innings, but failed to score.

The Steelers had the scoring chances and wound up leaving seven men on base against their best pitcher and still lose only 3-2," said Stogemeier.

"So you can see how close we can get to the best team around," said Stogemeier.

While North was trying to solve Heien, O'Fallon, or rather, Don Harris did its part. In each inning that the Panthers scored, an error cost North. And Harris made the Steelers pay dearly for their mistakes.

North's starting pitcher Paul Barrington was saved from any more trouble when catcher Daren DePew picked Harris off of third.

Barrington had easy sailing through the next two innings.

"We didn't rip the cover off of the ball," said Hodgdon. "But we always seem to have somebody to pick us up every game."

Hodgdon, who had not noticed us that much, but we just quietly got about our business."

North tried to generate a come-back. Puryear's two-run double and DePew's RBI single got the Steelers on the board in the second.

Hessler's hit scored Dan Patterson in the third and fifth, while Patterson again scored in the seventh along with Rich Buer, Steve Tritschuh, got one RBI as North banged out 12 hits against O'Fallon's second best pitcher.

"Being off seven days without a game was a tough test for us," said Stogemeier. "But today's games should prove to them (North) that they are one of the best teams in the area."

The Steelers are now 14-10 and will try (weather permitting) and make-up their rain-out game with Alton on the road today.

North winds up the regular season with a contest at Belleville East Wednesday. The East game was not originally on the schedule. Both games will start at 4 p.m.

$35 million more cut from state budget

Governor James R. Thompson announced an additional $35 million in proposed budget cuts Monday for the Fiscal Year 1982 Budget.

The recommendations, which will be made to the General Assembly, include programs that are funded 100 percent by the federal government, but administered by the State.

"It is clear from Congress' action on President Reagan's Economic Recovery Plan last week that these programs will no longer be funded by the federal government," the Governor said.

"These are difficult times that require difficult decisions, but we cannot plan a sound budget based on money that is not going to be there."

Included in the latest round of budget cut recommendations are:

$34 million in Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) Title II-D and Title VI programs, which provide public service employment and training; $200,000 in Economic Development Administration (EDA) 304 program funds, which provide grant and loan guarantees for projects under the Public Works and Development Act; $700,000 in Housing and Urban Development (HUD) and Community Services Administration programs, which provide planning and technical assistance to local governments.

"While we do not want to lose these programs, we must agree that in order to get Illinois and the nation back on a sound fiscal basis, some things have to give," the Governor said.

"It is expected that other programs funded through CETA will continue to be financed by the federal government and will continue in operation in Illinois."

The proposed cuts bring to $253 million the amount of cuts the Governor has recommended that the legislature make in the Fiscal 1982 budget.

Warfield praises police

Granite City Sixth Ward Alderman Mac Warfield last week commended the Granite City police for their crackdown on speeding on Maryville Road between Maryville Road and Emert Avenue.

Warfield asked Police Chief Ronald J. Veizer at the May 5 city council meeting to strictly enforce a new 25-mile-per-hour speed limit in that area to protect the children residing in nearby apartments and using nearby Worthen Park.

Since the new speed limit signs were posted, more than 63 arrests have been made, Warfield said.

The new speed limit and traffic crackdown are in response to the death of 5-year-old Erica Davis, 2427 E. 24th St., in front of Worthen Park April 27 when she was hit by a car while crossing Maryville Road.

Warfield said he was very sorry about the death of the girl and took immediate action to help protect the lives of other children in that area. He said he was upset by a forum letter from the victim's parents which criticized the alderman for a comment he made on the city council floor, "I am tired of getting calls about Maryville Road."

Warfield said his comment was misunderstood, since he has worked hard to make Maryville Road safer and the comment was made in conjunction with his motion to reduce the speed limit and strictly enforce it.

Report studies Illinois murders

The Illinois Law Enforcement Commission has released its 1981 report on "Violent Crime in Illinois," which contains a statistical breakdown of crime through the end of 1979. The 1980 final figures are not yet available.

With the shooting of Pope John Paul II yesterday and the shooting of President Ronald Reagan six weeks ago, the public's attention is focused on murders and attempted murders.

The crime report states, "Because public debate over issues such as crime should be based on factual information, rather than subjective perceptions, this report provides a detailed examination of violent crime in Illinois."

It studies the trends of various types of crimes and related data. One example is the following chart of percentages of weapons used in murders in the state over a four-year period.

III. murders by type of weapon

WEAPON	1976	1977	1978	1979
Handgun	50.5	49.8	54.4	55.2
Rifle	2.1	2.4	1.8	3.0
Shotgun	5.5	5.8	5.0	4.2
Unknown gun	4.0	4.9	1.0	2.0
Knife	17.6	22.3	20.4	20.4
Club	6.3	5.0	5.5	5.3
Other or blunt item	5.0	3.3	3.8	3.8
Other weapon	8.9	6.5	8.1	8.1

Another interesting set of statistics studies what percentage of the murder victims knew their attackers.

Relationship of victim and offender

Relationship	1976	1977	1978	1979
Within family	19.9	22.8	21.5	16.4
Known to victim	61.0	57.1	46.3	55.5
Stranger	17.7	19.4	21.2	26.8
Multiple offenders	1.4	6.1	1.0	1.3

Of 1,197 murders in Illinois in 1979, the report shows that the majority were committed by persons under the age of 25. The following chart shows actual numbers comparing the age of the murderers, across the top, with the age of the victim, at the left.

Murders—ages of victims and offenders

Age of victim	1 to 25	26 to 30	31 and over	Total
Age 1 to 25	322	40	123	485
Age 25 to 30	102	35	57	194

Hike University Center fee

A $3 across-the-board increase in the University Center Fee at Southern Illinois University Edwardsville was approved Thursday by the SIUE Board of Trustees. The fee increase will be effective autumn quarter. Currently, the fee for full-time students is $32.50 per quarter.

University officials said the Center operation is affected by increases in salaries and wages and by inflationary increases in the costs of goods, services and utilities.

Additionally, "the Center will be affected during the coming year by a reduction in retained tuition funds previously retained to support it. During Fiscal Year 1982, approximately $20,000 in retained tuition funds will be eliminated from the Center's operating budget.

Operating costs of the Center are expected to increase by nearly $125,000 next year. University officials estimate the $3 fee increase will generate approximately $93,000, partially offsetting inflationary increases and the reduction in retained tuition funds.

They said the remaining difference between income and expenses will be offset through increasing the efficiency of Center operations, effecting economies or cutbacks in various operation, and applying surplus funds.

Because of unexpected increases in enrollments this year, the Center expects to complete the current year with a surplus of about $27,000, which will be applied to operating costs next year.

Plan religious services for Atlanta dead

The United Christian Foundation (UCF), in conjunction with the Black Student Association at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, will sponsor a religious service, "For the Victims of Violence in Atlanta — A Prayer Service," in the Religious Center at SIUE, Wednesday, May 20, at noon.

According to the Rev. Dickson Beall, Presbyterian campus minister, the prayer service is "to raise awareness of this issue in the metropolitan area."

"We're experiencing systemic violence in our society, and the Atlanta incident is not an isolated instance. We must therefore recognize the problem here and there in order to allay the hatred that is now allusive in our society," Rev. Beall added.

Scripture reading and commentary will be presented by the campus Lutheran minister, Larry Meinzen. William Dickson, president of the Black Student Association, will also give a commentary.

STOP-ERA RALLY

Mrs. Phyllis Schlafly of Alton and other opponents of the Equal Rights Amendment gave leaves of home-baked bread to Illinois legislators last week, and 200 persons held a rally in the State Capitol grounds. She predicted that no more states than the present 35 will ratify the proposed ERA constitutional amendment.

IDOT sponsors rest stops

The Illinois Department of Transportation will sponsor Courtesy Coffee Stops during the Memorial Day weekend to promote the use of seat belts.

Free coffee and lemonade will be available at eight pairs of rest areas along interstate highways. Local civic groups have volunteered to serve the refreshments, which are provided by federal highway safety funds.

Motorists are encouraged to take advantage of the courtesy beverages at rest stops at Monee, Buckley, and Anna on I-57, Princeton and Minooka on I-80, Goodfield on I-74, Altamont on I-70, and Springfield on I-55. The program will be operating May 22-25.

Misuse of checks and IDs is alleged Granite City police plan to apply today for felony warrants against two local women who allegedly stole a purse, wallet and checkbook from an auto near the Scotchman Laundry, 3204 Namecki Road, at 3:15 p.m. Friday and then attempted to use the victim's identification cards to obtain a check-cashing card at K-Mart. Police recovered the victim's checkbook and asked that her name have been forged on three of the checks.

Marilyn Szczepanik of Ivy Lane said she was the victim. She said her purse had been stolen from her car at the laundry. It contained a checkbook, driver's license and other identification. A short time later, a relative warned K-Mart officials by telephone to watch for the stolen checks, in case an attempt should be made to cash one.

A K-Mart security guard reported having just completed the phone call when two women walked up to the desk and one identified herself as Marilyn Szczepanik and applied for a check-cashing card. The women were kept at the desk and police were called.

When an officer approached the woman trying to obtain the check-cashing card, she insisted she was Marilyn Szczepanik and showed him the checkbook and wallet for identification. The officer found the victim's driver's license in the wallet and noticed the photograph on the license was not of the woman attempting to cash the check. She and a woman with her were taken into custody.

Officers asked the woman who attempted to cash the check where her auto was and the woman pointed out a Gremlin in the shopping center's parking lot. On the floorboard, officers alleged seeing three purses. The woman signed a consent to search form and police towed the car to a police holding area.

Inside the Gremlin, they alleged finding the victim's purse, along with the purses of the two women arrested. Shoes, clothing and other items in the car with tags from Leader's Department Store, Carps, Gase's, Fashion Gal, a shoe store and another clothing store were taken from the auto and held by police for investigation.

The Madison County state's attorney's office authorized Granite City police to hold the women for the weekend, pending a review of the evidence and the authorizing of charges today. The women's names are being withheld until charges are filed.

360 at Student-Employer banquet

More than 360 persons attended the seventh annual "Student-Employer Appreciation" banquet last week at the Granite City Township Center.

The dinner is given each spring under the auspices of the Granite City District's Off-Campus Education Program and the Off-Campus Advisory Council for employers and students involved in the work-educational program.

Principal speaker was David Hutchinson, director of the Granite City office of the Madison County Council on Alcoholism and Drug Dependency, who also serves as the council's clinical supervisor.

His topic was "The Psychology of Work." Others contributing remarks at the banquet were Granite City Superintendent of Schools B. J. Davis, Thomas Holloway, director of Vocational Education, David Schermer, president of the Citizens Advisory Council for Off-Campus Education, and George Moore, representing the Granite City Board of Education.

According to Donald Shaffner, Off-Campus program coordinator, over 120 businesses participated in the cooperative education program in the 1980-81 school year.

In addition, St. Elizabeth Medical Center, Oliver C. Anderson Hospital, Maryville, and the Granite City School of Beauty Culture also took part in the school district's Extended Classroom Program this year.

FLEES STOLEN CAR.
A fat man in his early 20s was seen fleeing from the stolen car of Leon Wallace, 2915 Harding Blvd., behind a house in the 2000 block of 29th Street at 1:20 p.m. Friday. The auto had been stolen from the 2000 block of State Street between 12:35 and 12:50 p.m. Friday. A resident of the 2000 block of 20th Street said she returned home to see the stolen car in a yard and to see the fat man run away from it. He was described as about 5 feet, 7 inches tall, having short blond hair and carrying a large number of keys on a ring.

Transit board OKs bus service changes

By EDGURNEY

Additional trips will be added to the Collinsville-Edwardsville bus route to St. Louis when the Collinsville-Caseyville route is eliminated July 6.

That was the announcement Friday from Susan Schold, manager of the Madison County Mass Transit District.

The number of additional trips has not yet been determined, Mrs. Schold said. That change is designed as a convenience for residents who now use the Collinsville-Caseyville route, she said.

The transit board Friday in a meeting in Granite City formally approved service changes that had been announced earlier this month by the Bi-State Development Agency.

The Collinsville-Caseyville line is the only bus serving St. Clair as well as Madison County that is being eliminated, Mrs. Schold said. The reason the transit board does not want to support the line is that it is of minimal benefit to Madison County residents, she said.

All fares collected in St. Clair County on inter-county lines will be credited to the Madison County Transit District as part of its local contribution to the bus operations.

A few minor schedule changes may be made on routes serving Madison County as a result of the closing of Bi-State garages in East St. Louis and Belleville. Buses serving this area will come out of the Hall Street garage in North St. Louis starting in July.

Other proposed service changes are being evaluated. Some could take effect as early as September. One proposal would eliminate the bus to Fairmount Park Racetrack from St. Louis. That bus, as well as the Muni Opera bus serving Alton and Granite City, is being continued for the time being, at least at the insistence of the transit board.

A possible change the transit district manager will evaluate would provide direct service to the Metro-East Lutheran High School in Edwardsville. The bus on the Collinsville-Edwardsville line would be diverted to stop at the high school, she said.

Transit board member Paul Schuler, mayor of Granite City, asked her to also see if it would be feasible to provide service to that high school from Granite City.

In other action Friday: Transit board chairman Bill Haine of Alton said he would request an immediate study of the feasibility of Bi-State opening a garage in Madison County, since the two in St. Clair County are to be closed.

Haine said such a garage would cut the cost of bus service here by eliminating the dead time that will exist when buses have to come from north St. Louis.

Haine noted that property Illinois Route 111 and Interstate 270 already has been listed as a possible garage site by Bi-State. Darryl Thompson of Bi-State said the 111-270 site has been on the bottom of the priority list for new garages. He added, however, that the Hall Street garage is temporary, making additional garage facilities a necessity.

— The board voted to ask

Bi-State to make job applications available at all city halls and the county courthouse in Madison County.

Schuler said he was upset at the present imbalance in the residency of Bi-State employees. St. Clair County has a 498-128 advantage, he said.

Thompson agreed more places are needed since Bi-State's St. Louis office is the only place where job applications may be made.

Objections to new apartments heard

The Plan Commission of Granite City is recommending that a request from Charles and Robert Palus for R-5 (multi-family zoning) be granted rather than the current R-2 (single-family dwelling) classification for a proposed 16-unit townhouse apartment project.

The request was endorsed at Thursday's Plan Commission meeting at city hall, despite the presence of objectors.

One unit of six apartments would face Center Street and the other four-unit building would face 27th Street, the commission was told.

The request must be approved by the Granite City Council, and councilmen will consider the rezoning recommendation at the regular city council meeting tomorrow night.

The Plan Commission had approved a similar request for this site in March of 1974, however, permission subsequently was denied by city council members.

Objections from concerned citizens were heard at Thursday's commission meeting, and those who would be affected by the proposed apartment complex have vowed to attend tomorrow night's council meeting and express their views.

Tomorrow, the council also will vote on the recommendations of the city's Board of Appeals on five zoning variance requests. The appeals board has recommended that the following be approved:

Robert Lybarger, 1640 Venice, construction of an unattached garage 1 1/2 feet from the side line property.

Geoffrey Ahning, 2524 Wilson Park Lane, construction of a garage one foot from the side line property.

Bruce Davis, 3013 National, construction of an unattached garage one foot from the side line.

Leroy Thomas, 2817 Saratoga, restoration of a tornado-damaged garage four feet from the side line. And, Paul McBride, 115 Wilson Park Lane, construction of an attached garage two feet from the side line property.

As a special event during "Hospital Week," the sisters at St. Elizabeth Medical Center hosted a reunion tea for nurse alumnae who graduated from St. Elizabeth Hospital Training School between 1926 and 1955.

The tea was held in the Bonaventure Room at the medical center, with members welcomed by Maxine Carson, president of the St. Elizabeth Hospital Nurses' Alumnae.

Highlighting the event was the presentation of 50-year charms by Sister Mary Thomas, SEMC president, to four members of the 1931 graduating class.

Accorded the special honors were Flossie Bond Martin and Roberta Finley Gerke, both of Granite City, Clara Staaf Krause of Venice, and Marie Jones Peipert of Brighton, Ill.

$20 million condominium and home development

Plans for $20 million luxury condominium and single-family home development at the entrance to Sunset Hills Country Club are being announced.

The development, which will be located on the north side of the country club entrance road and next to the 17th fairway, will consist of 126 planned condominium units and 42 luxury home sites.

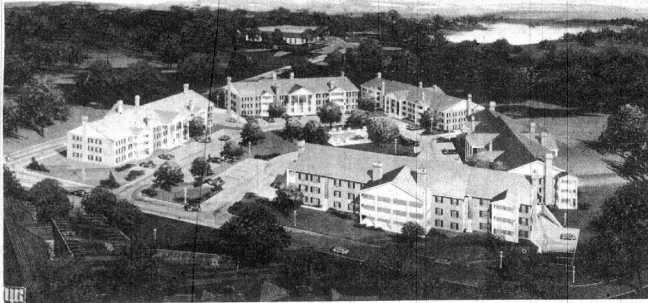

Henry Ross of Granite City, president of Ross Construction Co., the developer, commented on the years of planning which have gone into the project and expressed his desire to make the project the finest in the area.

He announced that Realty World Star, Inc., of Granite City will be the exclusive sales agent for the condominium complex, which calls for seven buildings of 18 elaborate garages, units, ranging from 1,324 square feet to more than 2,100 square feet.

Standard features will include closed-circuit television security systems, built-in kitchens, wood-burning fireplaces, in-unit parking with automatic garage door openers, private patios and balconies, plus standard and optional features designed to create an exclusive living environment.

Base prices will range from approximately $90,000 to $145,000, depending on size and location. Units are being reserved on a first-come basis. Additional information is available from Realty World Star, Inc., at 876-0024.

Cyclist charged after chase

Christopher J. Pritchard, 22, of 2844 Cardinal Ave., was charged with reckless driving, attempting to elude police, driving on a revoked driver's license and violating three stop signs after police alleged chasing his motorcycle at 6:55 a.m. Saturday.

A policeman first alleged seeing the motorcycle northbound in the southbound lanes of the 2800 block of Washington Avenue, coming head-on at the squad car. The driver and a passenger allegedly leaned into the path of the squad car as though they wanted to be struck, the officer alleged.

The missed contact and the officer turned his car around and alleged chasing the motorcycle on East 24th Street, Bromley Avenue, Edwards Street, Washington Avenue, 22nd Street and the alley between Lee and Washington Avenues before stopping the cycle on 21st Street near the alley.

The passenger was released without being charged.

June testing is cancelled

No licensing tests for insurance agents and brokers will be given during June by the Illinois Department of Insurance because heavy demands for taking the May 30 examination exhausted funds budgeted to administer them, said Philip R. O'Connor, state insurance director.

Those who applied to take a June test will be rescheduled for July 11, which is the first examination to be given after the state's new fiscal year begins.

The director pointed out that while the state charges applicants for the cost of administering the examinations, the Insurance Department is limited to spend the amount which is appropriated by the legislature each year for this purpose.

O'Connor also said the Insurance Department has asked the General Assembly to increase the amount which may be spent next fiscal year to administer agent and broker licensing tests.

SEEK HIT-RUN CAR

Granite City police are searching for a grey or silver El Camino or Ranchero which struck the home of May Nelson, 2828 W. 20th St., and then left the scene at 3 a.m. Saturday. Witnesses said the auto was northbound on Spruce Street, came to the T-intersection at the end of Spruce, skidded sideways into the yard of the Nelsons' home and hit a wooden post and the porch, causing extensive damage to the house and yard. The vehicle then left the scene west on West 20th Street and north on Route 3 (old Route 151), police were told.

Selling flowers and balloons provides work for idle youths

Flowers and balloons are giving nearly a dozen Quad-City area youths a source of income this summer and are keeping them from the pitfalls which can be caused by idle time.

A not-for-profit effort by its organizers, the Flowers and Balloons Summer Jobs for Youth program is being coordinated by Vanees Gasho and Mrs. Jo Ann Lucas, local Mary Kay beauty consultants.

As the name implies, youths are selling flowers and balloons this summer to raise funds. They get to keep half of the profits and the other half goes to the organizers to expand the program, creating openings for additional youths.

"With idle time on their hands and a shortage of spending money, many children may get into trouble. Flowers and balloons hopefully will help to curb youth crime or, for sure, youth idleness this summer," the organizers said.

Currently, the program is in its fourth week in Pontoon Beach, where youths set up stations in store lots and service stations, with the permission of the businessmen. The Suzuki Shop, P.N. Hirsch and Leroy's Market are among those who have helped the program. The coordinators hope to expand the program to Granite City and will ask the city council tomorrow night for permission. "We are taking one city at a time and hope to place young salesmen in as many locations and cities as possible this summer."

"The youths want to work and many now have the chance to work, to know responsibility, to gain experience in dealing with the public and with God's help, maybe we can keep them out of trouble. If it is just one, it will be worth our efforts," the Gasho and Mrs. Lucas said.

"They explained, 'The rules and regulations were kept simple. Be honest. Be polite and no smoking. Each

Proposals undermine local governments' viability

Measures now before Illinois legislators would, if enacted, greatly reduce the revenues available to local governments and school districts, bringing about substantial reductions in programs, major increases in property taxes, or both. This is the conclusion of an analysis by lawmakers who oppose the pending bills. And their contention appears to be valid.

The state ought not, on the one hand, curtail state revenue for local-level governments and, on the other hand, simultaneously restrict locally-generated revenue.

This kind of "double whammy" would leave no breathing room at all—no alternative but to slash, and with an axe rather than a scalpel.

An article in today's Press-Record details part of the potential impact, stemming from this spring's Springfield legislative agenda affecting local-level agencies.

Excerpts from the analysis make points worth all legislators' attention:

A proposed limit on property tax extensions would not permit local governments to take account of an increasing tax base resulting from new construction, improvements or annexations.

This could have the effect of prohibiting them from providing services for new or annexed residential areas.

It could prevent school districts from utilizing their tax base even though their valuation had increased. And payments for growth in such obligations as pension plans or unemployment compensation would have to be taken from other levies already restricted by the tax extension growth limit.

A reduction in the proposed new education budget has caused the State Board of Education to prorate seven categorical grant programs at 91 percent of estimated 1981-82 fiscal year claims and to reduce other grant programs.

A second reduction proposes to lump all general revenue fund grants into a single block grant and reduce the total of these grants to local districts.

These reductions would have a marked effect on districts' major grant programs, reimburse them for allowable costs incurred during the previous school year. (The specific impact is impossible to assess at present, since the governor has not yet specified which grants would be cut.)

If formula-driven mandates—such as special education programs or pupil transportation—are prorated, districts will be forced to find funds to pay part of the state's share of these costs. If funding for other mandated programs is cut, schools will still be required to provide services unless the statutory mandates are changed through new legislation.

School districts would be left with only two ways to deal with the problem of lost revenues from the state to support programs they are required by law to provide: cut services or raise local taxes. The plan to put all categorical grant programs into a single grant almost certainly cannot be implemented in a balanced way this session. Elimination of all mandates would require a complete revision of the School Code. A bill which purports to end all mandates already has failed to receive favorable consideration in the Elementary and Secondary Education Committee.

Suspension of rules and regulations regarding mandated programs would meet with serious opposition and probably legal action at the local level. The governor has tried to soften the blow by offering a promise of reduced regulation, less administration and fewer instances of outside interference. But if the financial cuts occur and the block grants and deregulation do not materialize, schools will have to bear the entire weight of these reductions.

Legislation would reduce the personal property tax replacement income tax on corporations by a fifth, from 2.5 to 2 percent of net income.

The present rate resulted from a compromise between the Thompson administration and the General Assembly. A corporate rate of 2.85 percent was set for the first 18 months of the replacement tax, with a reduction to 2.5 on Jan. 1, 1981, built into the law.

The new change—combined with property tax limitation, and a freeze on the income tax revenue shared with municipalities and counties—inevitably would shift tax burdens from firms to individual property owners.

An investment tax credit against the replacement tax would further reduce the income of local governments and schools. If the state believes such a credit would improve the business climate, it could just as logically place the impact of it on state rather than local shoulders.

To shrink the traditional state reimbursement to local governments and at the same time shackle their ability to find local-level sources seems hardly the way for Illinois leaders and officials to treat their "creatures of state government," the local-level governmental bodies.

Do lawmakers want to breathe life or force to suffocate? Do they, or don't they, wish to have governmental entities viably serving the communities that collectively form our state?

Heavier trucks damage highways and create hazards

Guest comment by John Marlin of the Central States Resource Center, Urbana

The Passage of the Heavy Truck Bill could shorten the life of Illinois highways by four years, greatly increase maintenance costs, and threaten the lives of motorists.

Illinois Senate Bill 1202 would increase allowable truck weights in Illinois to 80,000 pounds from the current 73,280 pound limit. This could cause a 20 percent increase in pavement damage, according to engineering studies conducted at Ottawa.

Put another way, taxpayers would have to replace highways faster than they are now. This bill proposes an indirect subsidy of truckers by the legislature. The payment would be hidden in increased public road costs rather than a straightforward grant.

There was a 40 percent increase in fatal accidents involving heavy trucks between 1975 and 1978, according to U.S. Department of Transportation statistics. During the same period, fatal accidents involving passenger cars increased only seven percent.

A 1980 study by the American Automobile Association Foundation for Road Safety revealed that under similar conditions, heavy trucks are involved in 2.1 times as many fatal accidents per 100 million vehicle miles as passenger cars.

From the safety point of view, it is ridiculous to increase truck size and weight at the very time the public is being forced to use smaller cars with less fuel. Heavy trucks are hard to handle, take longer to stop, and scare drivers of small cars. In rain or snow, they actually create their own weather patterns.

Illinois cannot afford the road damage heavier trucks would cause. Both the roads and the road fund are in terrible shape. Heavy-truck camps help and will most certainly hurt the situation.

Top bond rating for Ill.

The State of Illinois received a "AAA" rating Thursday, the highest rating possible, Governor James R. Thompson announced.

"This vote of confidence in the basic financial strength of Illinois is important since it allows the state to sell bonds at the lowest possible interest cost, given market conditions," the governor said.

"Now it is up to us to carry out our budget plan to demonstrate to the financial community that their confidence in the State of Illinois was well placed," he said.

The top bond ratings by Standard and Poor's Corporation and Moody's Investors Service, Inc., followed interviews at both financial houses by the Robert E. Anderson, director of the Illinois Bureau of the Budget, and members of his staff.

However, the governor stressed that it was imperative that the General Assembly defer any recommendations for a balanced budget and make the needed budget cuts in order to maintain the top bond rating. "It is imperative that the General Assembly cut at least $200 million from the state fund budget for Fiscal 1982," the governor said.

"It also is critical that the Assembly defer any increased tax relief, as I have called for. Without these deferrals, an additional $200 million will have to be cut from the state's general fund budget for next year."

"It is our ability to adjust to changing economic conditions and federal policy that has kept Illinois financially strong over the past four years," Thompson said.

He said he is confident that the legislature will continue working with him in making the necessary adjustments to keep Illinois financially strong.

State seeks more defense contracts

Governor James R. Thompson will meet with members of the Illinois Congressional delegation and U.S. Secretary of Defense Caspar Weinberger Wednesday to discuss ways that Illinois can increase the amount of defense contracts it receives.

"Defense contracts should play a stronger role in the Illinois economy and members of the delegation and I want to see how we can improve our state's status in defense contracts and procurements," the governor said.

The meeting, called by U.S. Representative Robert H. Michel and Melvin Price, co-chairmen of the Illinois delegation, will be held at 1:30 p.m. in the Capitol. Thompson will travel to Atlanta to co-chair the second in a series of hearings Thursday of the Task Force on Violent Crime. The hearings begin Wednesday and are co-chaired by former U.S. Attorney General Griffin Bell.

The dates and locations for the hearings on violent crime will be June 2 and 3 in Los Angeles; June 17 in Chicago; Detroit, June 18; Miami, July 21 and 22; New York, Aug. 4 and 5, and Washington, D.C., Aug. 17 and 18.

Hileman ordered to serve nights in jail

Former Granite City assistant fire chief Charles Hileman was sentenced to 18 months in Madison County Jail at Edwardsville Friday to serve 15 months of nights in the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville. Judge Philip J. Rarick pronounced the sentence and stipulated that Hileman is to be incarcerated from 7 p.m. to 8 a.m. weeknights and weekends with one weekend a month freedom.

Hileman pleaded guilty March 13 to burglary, two felony counts of theft and a misdemeanor count of contributing to the delinquency of a minor in connection with Feb. 23 activities in which Hileman allegedly recruited a 16-year-old Granite City student to steal money from a store.

Hileman did not plead guilty until two days later and Weber said he refused to accept the bargain. Hileman is seeking a stricter sentence, in light of Hileman's previous felony plea and the probation in connection with a plea of guilty to three felony counts of theft Dec. 2, 1977, for allegedly purchasing stolen collector's items.

Hileman was scheduled to be sentenced April 10 in connection with the latest charges, but Madison County State's Attorney Donald Weber caused a delay when he refused to accept the negotiated plea agreement which would have called for Hileman to spend 18 months of nights and weekends in jail.

Weber noted that an assistant state's attorney and an attorney for Hileman had agreed to recommend such a sentence for the defendant, if he would make his guilty plea by 5 p.m. Thursday. Unfair tampering with pensions

I am being paid full pay under my pension plan since 1983. Then they start paying me my pension plus my Social Security.

However, now comes the big catch. Now I understand I will be penalized more by retiring before 65.

I want to state my case, which probably is very similar to many others in this country.

I just passed my 60th birthday. I worked for my company for 30 years. I took no sick days off for the last 29 years of my employment.

The company informed me that the pension plan they suggested I take an early retirement. I hesitated.

They informed me if I stated my pay would be frozen.

Since it is such a big corporation, I felt it best not to fight back. So they have given me this offer in writing.

Maryville Road still hazardous

I am writing in regard to the fast and careless driving on Maryville Road.

I have children that walk Maryville Road to go to school and I don't feel safe anymore letting them walk.

I have seen children press the bell light at the school crossing and some drivers just ignore it.

Several children have been hit by cars on Maryville Road already and one was killed.

I sure don't want to see anymore get hurt on killed before something is done.

We do have a long stretch of Maryville and I would like to see it all get covered, not just a certain part of Maryville Road.

So, please, anyone who travels on Maryville Road, please watch your speed and slow it down.

Remember, the next child killed by yours or someone you love.

Hill replaces Nighohossian as housing authority lawyer

By ED GURNEY
The Madison County Housing Authority board hired a new attorney Thursday night while the old attorney unsuccessfully pressed the board to say why it fired him last month.

The new attorney is M. Joseph Hill of Edwardsville, who was hired after a lengthy closed session of the board. Hill practices law in Granite City.

The old attorney, Casper Nighohossian of Granite City, said he would weigh his options in the face of the board's attempt to respond to his letter.

Board members Reese Hoskin of Collinsville, Richard Hunter of Glen Carbon and Thomas Jun of Alton voted unanimously to hire Hill. (Paul Bargiel of fifth spot on the board is vacant following the resignation of James May of Edwardsville.)

Hill, Ted Diaz and Steve Anderson were interviewed during the closed session. A fourth announced candidate for the job did not appear.

It was Hoskin, Hunter and Jun who voted last month to fire Nighohossian. No reason was given for the action.

Hoskin, who chaired Thursday's meeting, declined after the meeting to respond to Nighohossian's letter. He said he wanted to discuss the matter with the board's new attorney first.

Nighohossian said in his letter that the only reason he had been given for his termination was that he had told the federal Department of Housing and Urban Development last September that the authority would sue if HUD did not approve its budget. The attorney said he had acted in the direction of the board.

Nighohossian also asked the board to pay him what he could have earned during the remaining nine months of his contract through collecting overdue rents. He received 35 percent of the amount he collected.

The board had previously agreed to pay Nighohossian the remainder of his retainer, $6,400.

Hill's retainer was set at $550 a month. (Nighohossian received $800.) The board said it would negotiate the percentage of collections Hill would receive.

Executive Director Janet Harolan said the board would have to ask HUD's permission to amend its budget to allow it to pay Hill. Such permission is routinely given, she said.

Nighohossian told the Herald he would question HUD giving permission to pay additional attorney fees. HUD officials held up approval of the authority's budget last year when it complained that Nighohossian's pay was too high.

The authority had been asked by an attorney since its last meeting a month earlier. However, Mrs. Harolan said some matters were postponed and the authority was able to get by without needing to consult with a lawyer during that period.

Shrine circus parade June 9

The annual Southern Illinois and Shrine Circus will be presented in Granite City this year on June 10, 11 and 12 at the Granite City Speedway.

The shows will follow a major parade in Granite City, Tuesday, June 9, at 7:30 p.m. Many Shrine units, bands, floats and motorized groups will be in the line of march that is now being arranged.

The circus will kick-off in Belleville on Saturday, June 6, after a parade in Belleville the night before, on June 5. It will play at the Belle-Claire Fairgrounds for three shows on Sunday, June 7, and one Monday night, June 8.

Granite City will be the scene of the Parade on Tuesday night, June 9, with circus performances on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday nights.

Saturday, June 13, will see a Circus Parade in DuQuoin with a show that night at 7:30 p.m. at the DuQuoin State Fairgrounds, plus a Sunday afternoon and evening performance on June 14.

The 40 Shrine Clubs of Southern Illinois, plus the 39 Units of the Temple, bring the people of Southern Illinois to take advantage of the chance to see a real live show, a spokesman said.

By the time Johnny Luxem finished the final act with his wheel of destiny, one of the top Circus World acts, the crowd that views the annual Southern Illinois Shrine Circus will have been treated to some of the best acts that can be put together.

George Barrenda and his full grown African Lions, the High Wire Wizardry of the Great Joselito, and that thundering herd of elephants of Colonel Lee Kerner, are just a sample of the famous acts.

Along with the clowns and all the other sidegists, such as Johnny Zoppes Rhesus Monkey Revue, it will fill a special evening.

Bringing the circus to Southern Illinois since 1958, the Shrine of Amneth Temple, all 8,000, are proud of getting the best.

Operation CARE in effect on Memorial Day weekend

The Illinois State Police will again participate in the National Combined Accident Reduction Effort (Operation C.A.R.E.), during the Memorial Day weekend.

The program, initiated in 1977 by the Illinois Department of Transportation and Ohio, has been expanded to include all 48 contiguous states. State Superintendent R. J. Miller has designated various high accident rate highways and all interstate highways as C.A.R.E. routes.

The program seeks to demonstrate the harmonious interstate cooperation in traffic enforcement and accident reduction between states during high traffic volume national holiday periods.

Through the use of high visibility patrols on all state and interstate highways, the State Police will endeavor to encourage voluntary compliance to all traffic laws, in an effort to reduce the number of traffic fatalities during the Memorial Day weekend. Troopers will be especially alert for drivers under the influence of alcohol.

Deer dies in escape attempt
A wild deer died Thursday in Venice fire department officers tried unsuccessfully to chase the deer out of a fenced warehouse yard gate and back across the river in the direction of the levy, according to a Venice police report.

This is the third incident of wild deer straying from their natural surroundings into residential or industrial areas in the past three weeks in the Quad-City area.

After spotting the deer Thursday, an employee of the warehouse called the fire department. When officers arrived, they were led to the location of the deer and tried to free it from the fenced yard, to no avail.

The Illinois Department of Conservation was then called, but no men were available. It was reported the Venice Humane officer, who was on the scene, went to his truck, possibly to find a sedative for the bewildered animal, but found the deer dead when he returned.

MELTON A SERGEANT
Marine Staff Sergeant Melton, son of Herline Melton, 21 Grenzer Homes, Madison, has been promoted to his present rank while serving with second Light Anti-Aircraft Missile Battalion, Marine Corps Air Station, Yuma, Ariz.

Captain Glenn H. Huffman, commander of District 11, stated, "Operation C.A.R.E. gives us a chance to show the public that we care about their safety. We hope all motorists will care enough to slow down and drive safely."

From 6 p.m., May 22 through midnight May 25, free coffee will be served at various rest areas throughout the state, courtesy of the Illinois Department of Transportation and other voluntary organizations such as R.E.A.C.T.

Huffman noted that Illinois traffic fatalities during the 1980 Memorial Day weekend, which covered a four day period totaled 28. It is hoped that number can be reduced in 1981, he concluded.

MEMORIAL DAY 1981

On Memorial day, we want to take a moment to remember all the brave men and women who have given their youth, risked personal safety and comfort to preserve what we, Americans, know as our way of life.

On this day, May 25th, 1981, we will be honoring their memory with lasting tribute, saluting them for their struggle in maintaining our peace and liberty. And let us commemorate the departed most fittingly by continuing in the pursuit of that peace.

An 'American dream' comes true

By ALAN L. GANSBERG

HOLLYWOOD — STEPHEN MACHT is a face familiar to both the TV and film audiences, having starred in "The Immigrants," "The Choirboys" and much more, but he's finally come into his own with ABC's new series "American Dream."

Macht is particularly pleased with the family series because it mirrors his own life — his three children are of corresponding ages to the children on the show. It's also a subject matter very dear to his heart.

"American Dream" is about a man trying to bring his family closer together and fill the emptiness he feels in his life," Macht said. "My own life is similar. I lost my father when I was 9 and my mother when I was 21. I wanted to get married right away. I wanted the continuum of a family. I also wanted to pursue my dream of being an actor. I have both."

Macht and the rest of the cast — which includes JOHN MCINTRE, HANS CONREID and KAREN CARLSON — will have to wait out the next few weeks to see if they'll make it to the fall schedule.

Not sweating out series commitments are a number of stars. Apparently the networks have decided to bring old favorites back to the home screen.

NBC has already planned on series from ANGIE DIKINSON and JAMES GARNER for this fall — the latter in a revival of his "Maverick" success.

Now ROCK HUDSON — last seen in "MacMillan and Wife" — has decided to return to NBC, although he's not quite sure what type of character he'd like to play. "It'll have to be something different, not another cop," he's saying around town. "And I like to do material that's light, that has a laugh or two along with the drama."

Ditto for SUZANNE PLESSETTE, who turned down CBS' offer to star in "Jessica Novack - News Closeup" this fall, but is still guaranteed a series of her own for next spring. Incidentally, the Novack role went to HELEN SHAVER, who scored in "United States," although she's from Canada.

WALTER MATTHAU is still ailing after rupturing a disc while sliding down a laundry chute on the set of his "Buddy, Buddy" feature, which also stars pal JACK LEMMON.

The two stars have been having a good laugh about the turn of events. Fans will recall that their film "The Fortune Cookie," for which Matthau won his Academy Award, was about a TV cameraman — in this case Lemmon — faking a back injury in order to collect the insurance money.

When JACKIE COOPER's autobiography is released this spring it could cause a few squabbles. Seems the former child star turned TV star turned director has a few things to say about the "M-A-S-H" cast that they might not want their mothers to read.

Jackie directed the CBS series during its first two seasons and recalls that ALAN ALDA was "aloof" and jealous of the director's rapport with the crew. LORETTA SWIT gets low marks for being erratic and McLEAN STEVENSON, who left the series long ago, was no favorite either.

Jackie does blow kisses to WAYNE ROGERS, however. Ironie, since problems between Alda and Rogers were reportedly one of the reasons the original Trapper John left the series after three seasons.

"Vegas" star ROBERT URICH is the front runner to snag the role of the father of the singing OSMOND Clan in a TV movie based on their musical climb to the top. It's little known that they only started singing so the two oldest sons — both deaf — could afford to pay their expenses as Mormon missionaries.

Watch can be compass

A watch can easily serve as a compass. Just point the hour hand of the correctly set watch toward the sun and, anywhere in the Northern Hemisphere, south will be halfway between that hour and 12 on the dial.

A weighty subject

By NANCY ANDERSON

HOLLYWOOD — A few years ago, Ann-Margret lost so much weight by jogging and eating a high-fiber diet that Roger Smith, her husband, told her she was getting too thin.

"I wish I'd taped that," Annie glowed. "You know how Roger is about weight. The late Jacqueline Susann used to shed unwanted pounds through a high protein, low carbohydrate diet.

Patty Duke-Astin peeled off plenty of poundage through, among other things, making her children clear the table after meals.

"I found myself eating leftovers from my children's plates as I took them to the kitchen," Patty explains, "so I turned that job over to the kids."

But Wendie Jo Sperber, the dear, little dumpling who chases boys on ABC's "Bosom Buddies" has been shucking heft through resting.

Phoning from Hawaii the other day where she was on vacation, Wendie reported that she'd lost 10 pounds since the show went into hiatus.

"I snack a lot on the set," she confessed. "When I'm working, I'm nervous about how I'm doing, so I eat a lot to relieve nervous tension. But when I'm on vacation, I don't need the food." Wendie began losing weight before she reached the Islands, because, "I'd bought vacation clothes that were too tight for me, and I knew I'd have to lose weight or go naked."

"I'm going to do the same thing when I buy clothes for fall."

"Luckily, there are scales at the hotel where I'm staying."

"Eating," she said, "has always been my problem, but I'd rather have food for a problem than drugs or alcohol."

In Hawaii, she's been eating less and exercising more, but best of all, she's beginning to understand why she craves food.

"I've been learning a lot about myself," said Wendie. "I run a mile a day, and I'm making a permanent change in my eating habits."

Wendie said she hadn't read the new "The Mademoiselle Shape-Up Book", a how-to-be-terrific tome by Ann Scharffenberger and Dr. Lawrence Weitz, a psychologist, but it preaches the very program she's practicing, namely: understand why you eat, change your eating habits permanently and take plenty of exercise.

"We deal with insight issues as few books do," Weitz says proudly of his volume.

THE RITZ BROTHERS

ZANY IS THE PERFECT WORD TO DESCRIBE THESE NIGHTCLUB COMEDYANS WHO MADE SEVERAL MOVIES IN THE 1930S AND 1940S

HARRY WAS THE YOUNGEST OF THE THREE JOACHIM BROTHERS BUT HE BECAME THEIR LEADER WHEN THEY WENT INTO SHOW BUSINESS AS THE RITZ BROTHERS.

THE THREE MUSKETEERS

THEIR FILM CAREER BEGAN IN 1934 WITH THE SHORT SUBJECT "ANCHOR". AMONG THEIR FEATURE-LENGTH CREDITS ARE "ON THE AVENUE" (1937), "THE GOLDWIN ROLINES" (1938), AND "THE THREE MUSKETEERS" (1939). INCIDENTALLY, U.S. FILMMAKERS PRODUCED THE "THREE MUSKETEERS" EIGHT TIMES BETWEEN 1911 AND 1975. THE RITZ BROTHERS' VERSION WAS PLAYED STRICTLY FOR LAUGHS AND WAS A BIG HIT.

News from Spain about an angel

By JACK MARTIN

HOT FLASHES: Charlie's prettiest Angel, Jaclyn Smith, will marry British cinematographer Rony Richmond just as soon as her divorce from Dennis Cole is final. Which should be around the middle of June. This not-so-surprising news wafted in from Spain where Jackie, accompanied by Richmond, is currently filming a TV commercial. Penny Marshall and Cindy Williams will pocket $95 thou per week for their seventh big season as Laverne and Shirley.

Oscar winner Meryl Streep will make her return to Broadway in Edna O'Brien's London hit "Virginia," which is based on the life of novelist Virginia Woolf (as in Who's Afraid of, etc.). The role was created in Blighty by that other Oscar winner, Maggie Smith, who says she is tired of the part and doesn't want to play it in New York. What Maggie is gonna do is star in Agatha Christie's "Evil Under the Sun" opposite a stellar lineup that includes Pter Ustinov, Alan King, Diana Rigg, James Mason and Sylvia Miles.
